A plot to murder Prim has been discovered. Five conspiritors with revolvers, grenades, poignards, telegrams and letters have been seized.

New ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—Chas. Durin went home tight, when his wife, aged six-ty-five years, struck him several blows on the head with an axe, killing him. The Revenue Supervisor for Tennessee telegraphs that 3,000 distilleries will start and run in that State all winter, under the decision regarding the purifying and refining of whisky.

RICHMOND. Nov. 15.—The Court of Appeals, two Judges dissenting, declares the enabling act unconstitutional, wherein a court is empowered to review the decisions of the same court, where it was composed of military appointers.

HAVANA, Nov. 15.—The Court Martial in session here has condemned to death all leaders of the rebellion, members of the various Juntas, and all other persons who have been instrumental in the rebellion, but who are now absent from Cuba, and the estates of all such are confiscated.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 16.—The Chatteon Armberg, in Canbon of Thuragenia, is being prepared for the residence of Napoleon.

A letter from Warsaw says the Reserves of the Russian army have for some time past been secretly called in. The army contracts for breadstuffs are twice as large for 1871 as they were for 1870.

The Prussian dispatches found at Orleans give the government valuable information of the enemy's intentions.

Moltke is reported seriously ill.

Among the prisoners captured at Orleans is the nephew of Toun, and a Prussian general, who was the Governor of Orleans during the occupation.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—The German unity negotiations are still progressing.

Prussia proposes that the regulations for press and public meetings shall belong exclusively to the Federal Parliament.

The Post, of Berlin, charges that Gladstone interfered in the interest of peace just long enough to place the new French leaves upon the markets. loans upon the markets.

Washington, Nov. 17.—It appears by official data that during the eight months ending September 31st, the exports of wheat amounted to over twenty-three mil-Hon dollars, wheat and flour nearly twelve million dollars, raw cotton one hundred and fifty-two million and a half dollars, and icaf tobacco eleven million dollars.

The following is another analysis of Granville's no.e: Earl Granville's reply to Prince Gortschakoff denies the right of Russia to recognize the European situation as releasing her from the obligations of a solemn treaty. It also denies that, assuming as true that when one controling power considers itself released from a treaty, the others are at liberty to disregard it. It further says that instead of making any such announcement, Russia should have invited the powers to consider the subject.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Herald's special from London says at a Cabinet Council yesterday it was resolved to act decisivly in regard to the Russian conplication, as it was imminent that great and popular indignation exists against Russia.

N. Nov.17.-There is inter citement in Government circles relative to the threa ened complications growing out of Russia's attempt to secure the revision of the treaty

Granville replying to Gortschakoff's or cular, denounces the right of Russia to re-cognise the European situation as releasing rogines the European situation as releasing her from her solemn treaty stipulations.

The Times in a strong article on this grave situation, sols: If Russia puts a fleet on the Black Sen Turkey should be able to sweep it off, if not England and other Powers will be obliged to do so.

London, Nov. 17.—All the papers speakof Russia's demands as insolent.

England will stand firm to her treaty stipulations, and will not stand alone. The defensive preparations throughout England are extensive.

Gibraltur is being reprovisioned, The Government is purchasing large quantities of powder.

London, Nov. 17. - The idea of the sollective note from the Powers concerned to Prussia, has been abatidoned. Austria's dispatch in reply to Gortscha-koff is identical with Great Britain's. The evening papers concur in arging vigorous war measures.

The merchants here decline to charter Russian vessels. furkey is preparing for a desperate con-

Exceptions from military service in Russia have been limited, and all classes are summoned. The peace-at-any-price party in the Cabl-net find themselves unable to resist the popular demand for war against Russia, unless she abandons her present positi n.

Lord Granville told Gladstone that they must choose between going with the tide or getting out of office. For the moment, they have yielded.

The Morning Post says, editorially, that the cause of France has now become the cause of Europe. All neutral States are bound to assist her to obtain a peace which will leave her intact, or aid her to continue the war, in order to keep Prussia engaged. While thus engaged, Austria, Italy and Turkey will whip Russia into submission. Either Prussia must sign an easy peace, to liberate her forces, or France, declining it, will once more prove herself the saviour of Europe.

Europe.
The Standard contains a bitter attack upon Russia and Prussia, who, it says, conspired to commit an act of perfidy and violence in audicious contempt of mo-rality, introducing chaos and a series of endless European wars. The existence of no Engli a Ministry is worth a week's purchase that would dare not give fight to the insolent challenge. Terrible, if True.

A correspondent writing from St. Ger-Washington, Nov. 16.—The President main, on the 18th ult., says: A party of as certainly ordered Motley's recall.

The Times editorially alludes to Gortsbelong a decider with ill most of the 18th regiment, was sent to a small town called chakoff's circular with disgust and indig-nation.

The question of an alliance between England, Austria, Italy and Turkey is discussed on all sides. liussars stabled their horses, and, after a good supper, went unsuspecingly to bed, only of the Eveniog Times, of this city, lied to-day of disease of the heart.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—Great enthusiasmwas reated on the bourse upon the announcement that the Prussians had evacuated oreans.

A plot to murder Prim has been discovered. Five conspiritors with revolvers, renades, poignards, telegrams and letters have been seized.

Ilussars stabled their horses, and, after a good supper, went unsuspecingly to bed, only placing the usual sentinel. In the dead of night the inhabitants massacred more than a hundred of the sleeping men in their beds, stabling them or cutting their throats as they lay asleep; and, not content with foully murdering the men, they killed the horses in the stables. Only forty men and the captain escaped, after hard fighting. Even the quiet, good-tempered, gentle Germans are terribly irritated by such foul murders as this, and it is needless to say that a strong force was imneedless to say that a strong force was im-mediately dispatched to Ablia to burn the town, and destroy every living thing in it. I cannot add a word which can point out the horrors of such an act more than the mere narration of it.

Cologna, Nov. 17.-The Gazette of the 15th says after an interview with the Russian Minister at Vienna, Baron Von Beuist informed Lord Bloomfield that Russia had one hundred thousand troops on the Turk-sh frontier, and that Austria was perfect y prepared to take the field if England ly prepared to take the field if England would give her consent.

Paris, Nov. 17.—The general convictions are that English statesmen are at fault. The country is wholly unprepared for war. The Secretary of War is hastening and arming the nation. Securities are declining, and breadstuffs advancing. All the Great Powers are ready to reconsider the Paris treaty.

Constantinoples, Nov. 17.—The Sublime.

Constantinoptia, Nov. 17.—The Sublime Porte did not receive Gortschakoff's note until yesterday. The dispatch is concillatory in tone, but insists upon revisions of the treaty of '56. 'The Ottoman Government will make an energetic reply.
